PRODUCT FEATURE UPDATE

FIRE RETARDANT FILTERS

RYCO N99 CABIN AIR FILTERS

Fitting a Ryco N99 Cabin Air Filter can prevent potentially flammable air filters from igniting after contact with hot embers, sparks or cigarette butts that may be been sucked in through the air intake.

Ryco Fire Retardant Cabin Air Filters inhibit combustion when exposed to embers, sparks or fire. When the media is exposed to a flame the media will self-extinguish on removal of the flame, blackening the media but unable to sustain ignition or smouldering. They are ideal for a range of support vehicles where there is a risk of exposure to ignition sources in bush fire zones.

Download the Ryco Fire Retatdant Air Filters Technical Bulletin for more information and vehicle applications.
